

Picture of a Pathetic Man
For 'Luke Starr' by Stephen Collins

Verse One

Work & pressure fill your head
Head for the bottle or your bed
But a picture never lies
But that's not true now we realise
Remember when you smiled,
Look at the picture when you were made
Remember when you smiled
You forgot it and the picture fades
.....And the picture fades

Chorus

Photograph, don't lose that smile
Hold on to that picture, it's worth the while
Remember when, there was more to you
Hold on to that picture, don't lose that smile

Verse Two

Life of pressure, you take no more
Forget the family & it's out the door
But a picture never lies
Put a face on another sigh
Remember when you smiled
Capture that thought don't let it slip away
Remember when you smiled
Life blurred the view, the truth it fades
.....The truth it fades

Chorus

Photograph, don't lose that smile
Hold on to that picture, it's worth the while
Remember when, there was more for you
Hold on to that picture, don't lose that smile

Lyrics continued,

Lyrics for Picture Of A Pathetic Man

Bridge

Erratic, melodramatic
Ecstatic, psychosomatic
Pragmatic, semi-automatic
Sarcastic, non- charismatic,

Chorus

Photograph, don't lose that smile
Hold on to that picture, it's worth the while
Remember when, there was more for you
Hold on to that picture, don't lose that smile

Verse Three

Work, work and more work, to the bone
Time slips away on the phone
Another snapshot reflects a voice
Makes you stop, re-think your choice
Remember when you smiled
Another face you just can't hide
Remember when you smiled
That smile was real don't let it fade
.....Don't let it fade

Chorus

Photograph, don't lose that smile
Hold on to that picture, it's worth the while
Remember when, there was more to you
Hold on to that picture, don't lose that smile

Written by John Kelly
Music & Production John Kelly, David Del Cid, Nixon Rosembert

© March 2011

Fanks Geeza's!!

Written by John Kelly © March 2011